

Drought tolerant perennial that gives showy long lasting color for the fall garden

Scientific Name: Hylotelephium spectabile

Common Name: Showy Stonecrop

Hardiness Zones: 4-8

Habit: 1-2 feet tall by 1 foot wide

Growth Rate: Medium to fast

Form: Medium tall perennial

Foliage: Fleshy, alternate to whorled around the stem

Flowers: Large flat topped flower heads, pink to deep red, long lasting in fall and will dry on the stem

Richard Old, XID Services, Inc., Bugwood.org

Hylotelephium spectabile Showy Stonecrop

Site Requirements: Prefers full sun or light shade and well-drained soil

Description: A very hardy perennial for hot dry areas

Cultivars:

H. spectabile 'Autumn Fire', slightly shorter with brighter flowers

H. spectabile 'Atropurpureum', dark bronze foliage with rose-red flowers

H. spectabile 'Brilliant', deep pink flowers

H. spectabile 'Iceberg', white flowers

Mary Kay Malinoski, University of Maryland Extension

Mary Kay Malinoski, University of Maryland Extension

Mary Kay Malinoski, University of Maryland Extension

